

Teaching Requesting Assignment

Think about each step in the process and answer the questions in the space provided or on a separate piece of paper.

What type of communication is right for your child?

What targets will you start with?

Which items can you limit access to?

When will you teach the request?

